

OCTOBER 12, 2009

- Connect
- HOME
- POLITICS
- MEDIA
- BUSINESS
- ENTERTAINMENT
- LIVING
- STYLE
- GREEN
- WORLD
- COMEDY
- TECHNOLOGY
- BOOKS/NYR
- NEW YORK
- CHICAGO
- DENVER
- VIDEO
- BLOGGER INDEX
- ARCHIVE

Huffington Post | Gazelle Emami

First Posted: 10-9-09 03:28 PM | Updated: 10-9-09 04:13 PM

This weekend marks the 7th Annual Open House New York, when the city opens its doors to the public, giving free tours of some of its most famed architectural landmarks.

From Radio City Music Hall to the tunnels of the Atlantic Avenue subway station, the event winds from the city's greatest heights down to its core.

And did we mention it's free?

Some locations require reservations, and all have limited space. Go to www.ohny.org for full details.

ARE YOU GOING? DID YOU GO? SEND US YOUR PHOTOS!

Just click the PARTICIPATE button below to upload your pictures and mark them on the MAP!

Open House New York

Participate

The Atlantic Avenue Tunnel

Back Next

jayKayEss/Flickr

The world's oldest subway tunnel.

comment (0)

Rate This Photo (Current Rank: 4)

Looks boring

Looks great!

Vote Now!

Average rating: 7.9 out of 10

Current Top 5 Open House New York Spots

#2

#3

#4

Share Your Top 5 Open House New York Spots

Users Who Voted on this Slide

HuffPost Community Top 5 Slides: « »

Hfrankmann | Become a fan

#1

#2

#3

#4

#5

Share Your Top 5 Open House New York Spots

Buzz up!

Be the First to Submit This Story to Digg

Read More: Front, Architecture, Buildings, Design, Houses, Landmarks, Mansions, New York, Open house, Open house new york, Slidepoll New York News